

french 314

french for careers

taught in french
open to all students

tues / thurs
2:30 - 3:45 pm

How do current issues in governance, business and international organizations in the French-speaking world intersect with French studies and your desire to use your French after graduation?

How can French majors, double majors, and Certificate students with traditional liberal arts backgrounds use French to make themselves marketable for jobs in business, non-profits and government?

This course also focuses on current events and the professional use of French in French-speaking Africa.

instructor ritt deitz contemporary issues in government, organizations and enterprise

Department of French & Italian College of Letters & Science